ONCE AGAIN THANKS AND GOODBYE

"That you express content; which we will pay
With strife to please you, day exceeding day,
Ours be your patience then, and yours our parts;
Your gentle hands lend us and take our hearts."
All's Well That Ends Well . . . Wm. Shakespeare.

This week marks the closing of the 23rd season of the Ivoryton Playhouse. It has been a good season and it is with great reluctance that the "theater people" take leave of their many friends in and around Ivoryton.

Mr. Stiefel and his entire staff wish to take this opportunity to thank each and every one of our patrons who have contributed so much to the Playhouse and its shows this season.

First we want to thank our audiences who have been so receptive to our comedies this year and then the press, both of New York and Connecticut, as well as our television and radio friends who have done so much to publicize our productions.

To the families of Ivoryton who have so kindly taken us into their homes for the summer, we wish to say thank you. We sincerely hope that we will be welcome in your homes next season once more.

Way up on our list of "thank yous" come the furniture and antique dealers as well as the many kind people who have loaned us furniture and settings for our stage.

And then, of course, come the many services that we require to put on professional productions, the printers, the mimeograph, the photographers, the laundries and dry cleaners and all other services that have been a part of our operation this summer.

And last but by no means least, we wish to thank those who have kept us fed and furnished us a place to enjoy our food and drink, we think that Nickse's and The Playhouse Restaurant deserve an extra vote of thanks for putting up with our individual wishes and our service demands.

Somehow this season we do not feel as though we were going so far away because many of us will be on Television this winter and most of our friends have sets, so some of us will be in your livingrooms this winter almost in person.

Once again thanks and goodbye. See you next summer when the Ivoryton Playhouse will again open its annual summer season. It will be our 24th year.
